

AMATHUS BEACH HOTEL RHODES

The 5* Amathus Beach Hotel is located in hillside gardens overlooking the beach of the picturesque coastal resort of Ixia and only 4km from historic Rhodes Town. Cafes, bars, restaurants and supermarkets are all within 450m in Ixia.

The excellent facilities at the hotel include one indoor pool and three large outdoor freshwater pools. One is a fabulous rooftop pool surrounded by spacious terraces. The stylish bedrooms are well equipped with private bathroom and luxury toiletries, hairdryer, satellite TV, safe, radio, direct dial telephone, towelling bathrobes and slippers and balcony or terrace. Complimentary wine, fruit basket and flowers are placed in each room on arrival.

Bridge is played in the Elafos Room which is well lit, carpeted and situated close to the Waterfall Bar and Café Bar. Evening meals are taken in the Iliades Restaurant on the tenth floor which offers panoramic views of Ixia bay and the sunset. The dinners are a combination of excellent quality buffets and a main course which is served directly to your table.

Rhodes Town is the largest inhabited medieval city in Europe and included in the UNESCO list of World Heritage sites. Steeped in history and virtually unchanged since the middle ages, the old town is a labyrinth of cobbled streets and hidden squares and is easily reached by local transport, buses stop frequently directly outside the hotel and taxi journeys are short and inexpensive. Visit the many museums, the Palace of the Grand Masters or the nearby Mandraki Harbour.

A visit to Lindos, is not to be missed. Brilliant white houses climb the hill from the bay to the cliff top ruins of the Acropolis. Built during the fourth century BC, the temple is one of the most famous outside Athens.
