

Training course completed

A HAMPSHIRE club is now trained up thanks to support from Test valley borough council.

Three members of Chilworth Bridge Club completed a two-day training course thanks to a £200 Councillor Community Grant from Test Valley ward member, Councillor Alison Finlay.

Val Bell, Helen Carter and Mike Denning attended the English Bridge Union course to be brought up to date with current rules, and to qualify as directors.

Chair of the club Val said: "The club greatly appreciates the support given by the council to encourage the valuable social and intellectual interaction provided for its senior residents, who sometimes feel isolated in localities with limited public transport. The training will enable directors to run sessions throughout the year."

Cllr Finlay added: "I'm really pleased to present Chilworth Bridge Club with this grant."
