Below the board table, there are two yellow boxes showing scores: 25.0 and 12.0.

The hand details show the following cards:

- N gordontd 8: ♠J7, ♥AQ93, ♦AK109, ♣A5
- W bignfat 4+: ♠KQ62, ♥1052, ♦QJ, ♣10762
- S griffenmac 2: ♠98543, ♥86, ♦8764, ♣J9

Additional information includes a '4♣ East' indicator and a score of 0-0. A menu is open over the hand, showing options: 'Pictures of cards', 'Advance card by card', 'Show double dummy', and 'Export'.

With the correct hand selected, click on Export (it is one of the options when you click on the blue button with three white lines across), then on Handviewer link.

You will be shown a link like the one below, which you can copy and send to other people. You should do this on any occasion when you ask a TD to rule on a hand after the event.

Other versions of BBO software may differ in detail, but the basic procedure will be similar.

As well as a link like this, any request for a ruling or a request to record a hand should also be accompanied by a screenshot of any relevant chat.
