English Bridge Union

Safeguarding Policy and Good Practice Guide

INTRODUCTION

Although bridge is mainly seen as a pastime for adults, it is in fact an activity which is both beneficial to and enjoyed by many children and young people. Furthermore, the English Bridge Union recognises that the provision of bridge, and bridge-related activities such as Minibrige, is crucial for ensuring the future of the game in this country and is therefore very keen to introduce it to more young people.

Bridge is a true mind sport, and as the governing body for bridge in England, we fully recognise our responsibilities with regard to the safety and welfare of all young people learning and playing bridge. This document comprises a statement of our policy with regard to safeguarding & protecting children, together with procedures which will be followed in line with our commitment to good practice and safeguarding & protecting children.

The procedures consist of some advisory guidelines and some mandatory procedures. The document as a whole is intended as definitive in respect of the activities of the Union itself, as a direct employer of staff and volunteers working with young people, and as guidance for all bridge clubs affiliated to the Union.

The policy applies to events directly organised by English Bridge Union

Although not a requirement, county associations and affiliated clubs of the EBU should consider having their own safeguarding policies. This policy can be used as a model for counties wishing to develop their own policy.

1 POLICY STATEMENT

The English Bridge Union, as an organisation that makes provision for children and young people, believes that the welfare of the young person is paramount. All young people, whatever their age, culture, disability, gender, language, racial origin, religious beliefs and/or sexual identity should be able to play Minibridge and bridge in a safe and fun environment. All young people have the right to protection from abuse and the English Bridge Union is committed to ensuring that everyone involved with young people in bridge accepts their responsibilities to safeguard children and to report any concerns about their welfare to the appropriate authorities.

The English Bridge Union accepts it has a moral and legal responsibility to provide a duty of care for young people involved in bridge and to protect them from harm. We will therefore:

- Respect and promote the rights, wishes and feelings of young people;

- Take all reasonable steps to protect children from harm, abuse, discrimination and degrading treatment;

- Ensure that all employees and volunteers who may work with young people are carefully selected, informed about their responsibilities and provided with guidance and/or training in good practice for safeguarding and procedures for protecting children;

- Provide monitoring and supervision to ensure compliance with the codes of conduct and good practice in relation to safeguarding & protecting children;

- Ensure that all suspicions and allegations of abuse will be taken seriously and responded to swiftly and appropriately;

In this context, those people who are considered to be employees or volunteers who may work with young people include:

- Staff employed at Aylesbury

- Regional and County Youth Officers

- Club Welfare Officers (CWO)

- International Squad Leaders, Captains and Coaches for any squads containing under-18s, or who accompany junior teams containing under-18s to international events, whether or not they are the Captain or Coach for that particular team

- Tournament Directors in charge of junior events for school-age children

Teaching staff at the Junior Teach-In weekend and any other training or coaching events run by EBED for young people will be covered by its procedures and policies.

Staff and volunteers in general will not be trained or expected to deal with situations of abuse nor decide if abuse has occurred, but they will be expected to accept responsibility for taking action and be aware of the appropriate reporting procedures.

Confidentiality will be upheld in line with the Data Protection Act 2018 and the Human Rights Act 1998.

Terminology

A child is defined as anyone under the age of 18, in line with the Children Act 1989 and 2004.

The terms child and young person are used interchangeably in this document, and also refer to vulnerable adults.

Young people over the age of 18 may also be considered to need protection in the context of their relationships with adults in positions of authority, such as team captains or squad leaders.

The term parent is used as a generic term to represent parents, carers and guardians.

The term bridge is used to include Minibridge and all bridge-related activities.

2 GOOD AND BAD PRACTICE GUIDELINES

Good practice principles

Good practice will help to create a positive culture and climate within our sport. The following principles should be adhered to by all those working with young people in bridge:

Ensure bridge is fun and enjoyable by treating all young people equally, with respect and dignity; by confronting and dealing with bullying; by promoting fair play and giving time and attention equally to both the more and less talented.

Recognise the developmental needs and capacity of each young person and place their welfare before winning or achieving goals, avoiding excessive training or competition and not pushing them against their will.

Build balanced relationships based on mutual trust which empowers young people to share in the decision-making process. Give enthusiastic and constructive feedback rather than negative criticism.

Be an excellent role model:

- In sessions specifically designed for juniors such as teaching, practice and bridge camps, do not smoke or drink alcohol.
- In other club/county/national events, where juniors may be entrants or caddies supporting Directors, follow local smoking policies and drink alcohol only in moderation.

Conduct all tuition, coaching and meetings in an open environment, avoiding one-to-one coaching in unobserved situations.

Maintain a safe and appropriate distance with players. It is not appropriate to have an intimate relationship with a young person aged 16-17. One adult should never share a room with one young person. (It is, however, acceptable for two members of a partnership or junior team to share a room when one is 18 or over and the other is aged under 18.)

Do not accept, or initiate, friend requests with under-18s on Facebook unless you are also friends with their parents, and do not engage in private chat with under-18s.

Ensure that any photographers/video operatives or similar wishing to attend bridge events are given a clear brief, wear identification and are not given unsupervised access to players. Obtain written parental consent before using any photographs or images of children.

Involve parents/carers wherever possible, in particular whenever arranging away travel or overnight accommodation. If mixed teams are taken away, they should always be accompanied by a male and female member of staff. Adults should not enter children's rooms or invite children on their own into their rooms.

Secure parental consent in writing to act in loco parentis, if the need arises to give permission for the administration of emergency first aid and/or other medical treatment.

Keep a written record of any injury that occurs, along with the details of any treatment given.

Request written parental consent if it is necessary to transport young people by private cars and ensure you are properly insured.

Bad Practice

The following constitute poor practice and should be avoided by all personnel:

- Spending excessive amounts of time alone with children away from others;
- Taking children to your home where they will be alone with you.
- Engaging in rough, physical or sexually provocative games, including horseplay;
- Sharing a room with a child;
- Engaging in or allowing any form of inappropriate touching;
- Swearing, using bad language or inappropriate slang in the presence of a young person;
- Allowing children to use inappropriate language unchallenged;
- Making sexually suggestive comments to a young person, even in fun;
- Reducing a child to tears as a form of control;
- Allowing allegations made by a child to go unchallenged, unrecorded or not acted upon;
- Doing things of a personal nature for children or disabled adults that they can do for themselves;
- Inviting or allowing children to stay with you at your home unsupervised.

If cases arise where these situations are unavoidable they should only occur with the full knowledge and consent of someone in charge or the child's parents. If any of the following incidents should occur, they should be reported immediately to another colleague, a written note of the event should be made and the parents informed of the incident:

- You accidentally hurt a young person.
- A young person seems distressed in any manner.
- A young person appears to be sexually aroused by your actions.
- A young person misunderstands or misinterprets something you have done.

Codes of Conduct & more detailed guidance

Appendix A contains a model Code of Conduct which all those working with young people as bridge teachers, coaches, volunteers or other assistants could use.

Appendix B gives specific guidelines for those arranging trips to bridge matches and other events, and includes a Code of Conduct for parents and young people themselves.

ONLINE BRIDGE AND MINIBRIDGE

Particular care is needed when providing online bridge and Minibridge activities. Parents are advised to check the controls provided by any provider of online bridge services prior to allowing children to access them and it is recommended that young people playing in open games do not identify themselves as such in their profiles or nicknames.

Each platform has different arrangements and some features of the three in most use by EBU members are described below. Aside from casual games that young people may play in, these platforms may be used for EBU events or training, either specifically for young people or at which young people are welcome, so this information may be helpful for parents of those who will be accessing them.

Bridge Club Live Bridge Club Live is an online platform providing an Acol- based game as well as running its own EBU-affiliated bridge club, which follows this EBU guidance:

- Validity checks are made before membership of the club is permitted to young people under 18.
- Chat facilities are permitted only table-wide, not one-to-one, other than for system-disclosure purposes. Offensive words are not permitted in messages.
- Audio/Video chat rooms are open for members for one-to-one social chat between members only and whilst their content is not monitored or recorded, access is logged and this facility can be blocked if requested.
- All chat messages and “sticky notes” to and from junior members are logged, and the logs are available should any issue arise.
- Parents, are able to request via email to BCL, that limits be imposed on the length of time a young person may play online bridge each day.

RealBridge is an online bridge provider which offers integrated video and audio. For junior games that they organise themselves, the following apply:

Nobody but an under-16 year-old, or national coach/captain can join.

Nobody can enter the event without going via the coach or parent.

They do not capture any personal data and strongly discourage the players from contacting them directly.

Conditions of contest are sent to the coaches, captains and players. They are informed in those documents of the rules for these sessions.

Only RealBridge-approved TDs direct these games.

Events organised by clubs, teachers or squad leaders are responsible for themselves.

They are not required to let RealBridge know about their games and they don't usually unless they need help (normally technical).

RealBridge staff who need to join the games will let the organisers know they are there.

Technical matters: RealBridge do not store video and do not provide “share screen” Twitch and Live Stream for U16 events that they run.

Bridge Base Online (BBO) is the world's largest bridge platform offering a variety of games themselves as well as allowing clubs and NBOs to run their own.

BBO is rated an 18+ site because of the live chat and interaction with adults. It is not intended for under-18s to use unsupervised.

There are a number of youth initiatives and junior lessons which take place on the BBO, under adult supervision, in controlled environment. The young people are assigned class accounts, created by their teachers, and play only in set games created by the teacher. They don't go home and login unsupervised and nobody interacts with the children outside their own group.

BBO suggests anonymous tools for kids, such as the anonymous Mini-bridge, anonymous bridge master, just declare, anonymous duplicates (we have versions without ads), where children can play and practice safely. They can provide information for these things.

For other online providers, similar concerns should be addressed:

Parental permission to play online should be obtained for young people under 18.

Chat facilities should be table-wide, not one-to-one, other than for system-disclosure purposes. Offensive words should not be permitted in messages.

Parents should be aware of the length of time a young person is playing online bridge each day and be able to set limits on it.

3 RECRUITMENT, SELECTION AND TRAINING OF STAFF AND VOLUNTEERS

The English Bridge Union recognises that anyone may have the potential to abuse children in some way and seeks to ensure that all reasonable steps are taken to prevent unsuitable people from working with children.

When seeking staff or volunteers to work with young people, whether full or part-time, the following steps should be followed:

3.1 Advertising/recruitment

If any form of advertising is used, it should reflect the aims of the Organisation, in particular in relation to the policy on the care and safety of young people

A job description should be drawn up, identifying roles and responsibilities and including a person specification clarifying the required and recommended skills and qualities of an applicant.

All applicants should complete a written Application Form.

3.2 Application

The application form should elicit information about an applicant's past and self-disclosure about any criminal record. The form should include:

Name and address

Relevant experience, qualifications and training undertaken

Listing of past career or involvement in bridge

Any criminal record

The applicant's consent to criminal record checks being made

A sample application form is at Appendix C1.

3.3 Checks & References

Enhanced disclosure should be sought from the Disclosure and Barring Scheme for all those working with young people. Section 4 DBS Checks explains the procedure for obtaining checks.

At least two references should be taken up. A sample reference form is at Appendix C2.

3.4 Interview, induction and training

All staff, and where possible volunteers, should be interviewed before being accepted for any position working with young people.

In addition, all youth workers are recommended to attend a half-day seminar/workshop, or an equivalent online course, on good practice in child safety. Such workshops are regularly run by UK Coaching at venues across the country. An outline of the course is at Appendix D and details of workshop dates and venues may be obtained from the website www.ukcoaching.org (search for workshops). Club Welfare Officers are required to attend such a seminar.

3.5 Monitoring and Appraisal

At regular intervals, all staff or volunteers should be given the opportunity to receive formal or informal feedback and to identify further training needs.

Following each EBU-organised event involving overnight stays for young people (eg. Junior Teach-In weekend, home Peggy Bayer weekend) all event staff and all parents/teachers present should be asked to provide feedback on the event, including the provision made to safeguard the young people and the practice of all those involved. Feedback from the young participants themselves is also recommended.

3.6 Complaints Procedure

The EBU's complaints and appeals procedures should be used to deal with any formal complaints and/or appeals. Guidance on these procedures will be made available to all staff and volunteers working with young people, to all affiliated clubs and EBU members.

4 DBS checks (previously called CRB checks)

In order to work with young people and/or vulnerable adults organisations ask for new workers to apply for “disclosure” – a document containing information held by the police and government departments – from the Disclosure and Barring Scheme (an agency of the Home Office).

Disclosures may only be requested by individuals through organisations registered with the DBS or through umbrella bodies acting on behalf of an organisation. The EBU is not registered with the DBS. The EBU use a company called First Advantage to provide the disclosure service for EBU members. The procedure for obtaining a disclosure is that the individual whose background is being checked must themselves apply for the disclosure, but the request is submitted through the EBU. There are different types of disclosure, but for us the relevant type is an “Enhanced Disclosure” – needed for any work with children.

DBS checks are free of charge for volunteers but there is a handling charge of £18.80 levied by First Advantage, but costs over £56 for anyone who receives a tax-declarable payment for their services. This means that for anyone who is paid for teaching bridge in a school, you will have to pay the full price.

While anyone can apply to have a DBS check carried out it is only necessary where a person is involved in ‘regulated activity’. The EBU currently pays the volunteer’s handling charge for any EBU member who needs to have a DBS check carried out for their activities on behalf of the EBU, its counties or its affiliated clubs. We cannot pay for volunteers who do not need to be checked but wish to have one carried out anyway.

The definition of ‘regulated activity’ is to be found in the full details of the scheme through the link given below.

To initiate the process for obtaining a disclosure on yourself, you need to email the EBU – karend@ebu.co.uk . The EBU will create an Online Application and you will receive an Activation email containing a link and instructions on how to complete the registration process. Your documents will need to be verified either by the EBU or by the Post Office depending on the verification method chosen. Once the verification has been done the DBS the process takes between 1 and 4 weeks to complete.

You will receive an individual disclosure document. The EBU does not receive a copy.

<https://www.gov.uk/government/organisations/disclosure-and-barring-service/about>

DBS update service

The Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) update service lets applicants keep their DBS certificates up to date online and allows employers to check a certificate online.

DBS checks used to be called CRB checks.

Applicants How to register

You can register online as soon as you have your application form reference number. You can ask for the number when you apply for your DBS check.

Or you can wait and register with your certificate number when you receive your DBS certificate. If so, you must do so within 19 days of the certificate being issued.

To check the progress of your DBS certificate use the DBS tracking service.

Registration lasts for 1 year and costs £13 per year (payable by debit or credit card only). There's no charge if you're a volunteer.

You'll get an ID number with your registration that you need to log on to the service.

What you get

When you join, you'll get an online account that lets you:

- take your certificate from one job to the next

- give employers permission to check your certificate online, and see who has checked it

- add or remove a certificate

Read the detailed guidance for applicants.

Reusing a DBS check

A DBS certificate only contains information from a DBS check on a certain date and for a particular purpose.

Employers can accept a previously issued certificate but must:

- check the applicant's identity matches the details on the certificate

- check the certificate is of the right level and type for the role applied for

- carry out a free-of-charge status check to see if new information has come to light since the certificate's issue; the applicant must have already joined the DBS update service

Employers can accept a previously issued certificate without a status check but at their own risk. The EBU does not do this.

CRB-branded certificates should be treated the same as DBS-branded certificates.

5 RESPONDING TO SUSPICIONS OR ALLEGATIONS

5.1 Introduction

It is not the responsibility of anyone working in bridge in a paid or voluntary capacity to decide whether or not child abuse has taken place. However, there is a responsibility to act on any concerns about the welfare of a young person. These concerns may arise because:

- a young person discloses that he or she is being abused
- of the observed behaviour of an adult towards a young person
- of a number of indicators observed in a child over a period of time.

The English Bridge Union has designated a member of staff to act as the national Designated Safeguarding Officer (DSO). The EBU has a Disciplinary Panel that will consider all written reported breaches of the EBU Safeguarding Policy that are referred to it. All reports of malpractice should initially be referred to the EBU Safeguarding Officer in writing.

5.2 Problem recognition

It is recognised that strong emotions can be aroused, particularly in cases of sexual abuse or where there is misplaced loyalty to a colleague. It is important to understand these feelings but not to allow them to interfere with your judgement about any action to take.

If you are not sure whether an action constitutes poor practice or abuse, you should discuss the situation in confidence with the Club CWO or the EBU DSO. There may well be marginal cases, for example of volunteers who cause children to suffer physical or emotional harm by consistent inappropriate behaviour towards them, or by adopting a “win at all costs” attitude. It should also be recognised that abusers may come from all walks of life, and that it is not only adults who abuse children – they may suffer at the hands of other children and young people.

The English Bridge Union assures all staff/volunteers that it will fully support and protect anyone who in good faith reports his or her concern that a colleague is, or may be, abusing a child. All suspicions and disclosures from children must be reported appropriately.

5.3 Action if bullying is suspected

The same procedures should be followed if bullying is suspected. For specific guidance on actions to prevent bullying see Appendix E.

5.4 Reporting Procedures

All allegations or suspicions should be reported immediately in one of the following ways:

If you are working in schools as part of the school curriculum or on an extra-curricular basis, you should inform the Head Teacher immediately, who will follow normal school procedures.

In any other situation, or if the designated person is not available, or if concern is about that person, you should make direct contact with the EBU DSO.

If you are not sure what to do, or in cases of last resort you should contact either:

- the Local Authority Designated Officer (LADO); or
- the NSPCC 24-hour free phone Help Line on 0808 800 5000.

In all cases, a full written report should be made to the appropriate person as soon as possible.

If it is necessary to pass information on to the Local Authority Designated Officer (LADO) it needs to be as helpful as possible, hence the necessity for making a detailed record at the time of the disclosure/concern. Information should be written in a factual format, avoiding opinion and hearsay, and should include the following:

The nature of the allegation.

A description of any visible bruising or other injuries.

The child's account, if it can be given, of what has happened and how any bruising or other injuries occurred.

Any witnesses to the incident(s).

Any dates, times or other relevant information.

A clear distinction between what is fact, opinion or hearsay.

A form which can be used for reporting a concern or allegation is at Appendix F.

5.5 Action following a reported concern

Where there is a complaint against a member of staff or volunteer there may be three types of investigation:

A criminal investigation – in which case the police are immediately involved;

A safeguarding & protecting children investigation – in which case the Local Authority Designated Officer (LADO) must be involved at the first stage,

A disciplinary or misconduct investigation – in which case the Disciplinary Panel of the English Bridge Union may be involved.

The appropriate investigation will be determined according to the type of concern – whether poor practice or possible abuse.

Poor Practice

If, following consideration, the allegation is clearly about poor practice; the designated person may deal with it as a misconduct issue.

If the allegation is about poor practice by a CWO, or if the matter has been handled inadequately and concerns remain, it should be reported to the EBU DSO who will decide how to deal with the allegation. The DSO may decide either to:

- issue a written warning to the accused with a copy to the CWO where relevant and possibly recommend or require further training; or
- in the case of very serious poor practice, or a continuation of previously reported poor practice, report the incident to the EBU Chief Executive Officer, who will decide on any initial action to be taken and whether to refer it to the EBU Disciplinary Panel.

Suspected Abuse

Any suspicion that a child has been abused by either a member of staff or a volunteer should be reported to the EBU DSO, who will take such steps as considered necessary to ensure the safety of the child in question and any other child who may be at risk.

The DSO will refer the allegation to the Local Authority Designated Officer (LADO) who may involve the police or go directly to the police if out-of-hours.

The parents or carers of the child will be contacted as soon as possible following advice from the Local Authority Designated Officer (LADO).

The DSO will also notify the EBU Chief Executive Officer who will deal with any media enquiries.

If the EBU DSO is the subject of the suspicion/allegation, the report must be made to the EBU Chief Executive Officer or in his/her absence a member of the EBU Board of Directors, who should refer the allegation to the Local Authority Designated Officer (LADO)

Internal Enquiries and Suspension

On receipt of a written allegation or complaint involving the Disciplinary Panel, the person accused will be informed of the specified alleged offence in writing (by recorded delivery) and will be informed he/she has the:

- opportunity to defend him/herself and be allowed a reasonable time to prepare a defence.

- right to seek legal advice or another form of assistance or representation

- right of hearing before a panel at a time that will allow a full opportunity to present his/her defence and be represented

- right of appeal to an independent appeals panel.

As far as possible, the Disciplinary Panel will follow the procedures and policies laid down by the Laws & Ethics Committee for investigations, hearings and appeals.

The Disciplinary Panel may impose such penalties as it deems appropriate, including:

- temporary or indefinite suspension from the EBU

- the withdrawal of any EBU qualification that the individual may hold

- the suspension of the individual from any event or activity promoted or authorised by the EBU or any affiliated club or County Association

The EBU Chief Executive Officer may make an immediate decision about whether any individual accused of abuse should be temporarily suspended pending the Disciplinary Panel hearing and/or further police and the Local Authority Designated Officer (LADO) inquiries. The welfare of the young person is always paramount.

5.6 Confidentiality

Every effort will be made to ensure that confidentiality is maintained for all concerned. Information will be handled and disseminated on a need to know basis only. This may include the following people:

The Club Welfare Officer;

The parents of the person who is alleged to have been abused;

The person making the allegation;

Local Authority Designated Officer (LADO)/police;

The EBU Designated Safeguarding Officer and EBU Chief Executive Officer;

The alleged abuser (and parents if the alleged abuser is a child). Advice will be sought from the Local Authority Designated Officer (LADO) about who should approach the alleged abuser.

Information will be stored securely at the EBU offices in line with data protection laws, with access available only to the EBU DSO, the Office Manager and the Chief Executive Officer.

5.7 Support to deal with the aftermath

The English Bridge Union acknowledges the difficulty in reporting concerns and recognises that support may be needed for all those involved in any allegation. This includes support not only for young people and their parents and members of staff but also the alleged perpetrator of the abuse. The EBU will take steps to ensure that appropriate professional support is provided to all those involved. Additionally, helplines, support groups and open meetings may be used to maintain an open culture and help the healing process.

5.8 Allegations of previous abuse

Allegations of abuse may be made some time after the event (e.g. by an adult who was abused as a child or by a member of staff who is still currently working with children). Where such an allegation is made, the EBU will follow the same procedures as detailed above and report the matter to the Local Authority Designated Officer (LADO) or the police if appropriate. This is because other children, either within or outside the world of bridge, may be at risk from this person. Anyone who has a previous criminal conviction for offences related to abuse is automatically excluded from working with children. This is reinforced by the details of the Protection of Children Act 1999.

Appendix A – Code of Conduct for Clubs & Youth Workers

Model Code of Conduct for Bridge Clubs and all Youth Workers.

* On behalf of Bridge Club, I agree that all club officials, staff, teachers and volunteers working in any bridge or Minibridge-related activity will:

* In my capacity as, I agree that I will:

Respect the rights, dignity and worth of all players, officials and volunteers at all times

Treat everyone equally regardless of age, sex, ethnic origin, religion, political persuasion, sexual orientation or physical disability

Consider the well-being and safety of players before the development of performance

Develop an appropriate working relationship with players, based on mutual trust and respect

Make sure all activities are appropriate to the age, ability and experience of those taking part

Promote the positive aspects of bridge (eg, ethics and fair play)

Display consistently high standards of behaviour and appearance

Follow all guidelines laid down by the English Bridge Union and the Club

Never exert undue influence over players to obtain personal benefit or reward

Encourage players to value their performances and not just results.

Appendix B – Guidelines for bridge trips

1 PLANNING & RISK ASSESSMENT

Any trip to a bridge event should be planned and a risk assessment should be undertaken before the trip is confirmed. This should be done to a greater or lesser extent whether the trip is a short one to an away match against a local school, for example, or a long one, perhaps involving foreign travel. The following checklist can be used to ensure that all aspects have been taken into account when planning:

Objectives	Is the trip for competition, training, social purposes, or a combination of these?
When?	Does the chosen date fit in with the bridge calendar? How does the date fit in with the academic/school calendar, including exam periods? Are there any problems with religious holidays etc?
Where?	How accessible is the venue and how long is the journey? How suitable is the venue for bridge activities? How suitable is the overnight accommodation, if relevant? What transport arrangements will be necessary?
Who will be going?	Are the players mostly in the same age group, or is there a wide age range? Are there players of both sexes? How many will be taking part? Are there any special needs relating to any disability, medical conditions, etc?

If players are very young, the activities will need to be shorter and supervision will need to be greater. If the group will be mixed, there should be responsible adults of both sexes present.

A formal assessment of the risks that might be met on a trip should have the aim of preventing the risks or reducing them. Safety must always be the prime consideration. A risk assessment should be based on the following considerations, which should be applied in respect of the venue, transport, staffing, accommodation and catering arrangements as well as the activities themselves:

- what are the hazards?
- who might be affected by them?
- What kinds of behaviour might increase the risk?
- what safety measure need to be in place to reduce the risks to an acceptable level?
- can the group leader put the safety measures in place?
- what steps will be taken in an emergency?

A pre-trip visit may be in order to check many of the above points, or references may be obtainable from others who have been to the same venue or event.

2 COMMUNICATION

In general, communication with young people under the age of 16 should be via the parents or carers, rather than direct with the child. This includes email and mobile phone contact, although it is sensible to have access to these forms of communication as back-up ways of getting in touch when necessary. It is acceptable to contact 16-17 year olds directly, but parents and/or carers should always be kept informed wherever possible.

Appendix B – Guidelines for bridge trips

It is essential that parents and/or carers are kept informed of all trips away. The information provided in advance of the trip should include:

- Method(s) of transport
- Departure time and place and the estimated time of return
- Destination, venue and event details
- The name of the person in charge, with contact details, and the names of other staff members
- Emergency contact details
- Information about any costs (eg transport costs, meals, etc). This should include any optional extras for which there may be a charge, and also guidance as to how much spending money may be needed.
- Any special dress requirements, such as a suit and tie for formal dinners.

For trips involving overnight stays, a home contact for the organising body – whether a club, school or the English Bridge Union itself – should always be identified. The home contact should be provided with a list of those in the group with contact numbers and the address of the accommodation.

In addition, for trips involving overnight stays, parents should be provided with the following information:

- The name and contact number of the person acting as the home contact
- Details of accommodation with address and telephone number
- An itinerary, giving as much information as possible regarding the planned activities
- Details of insurance cover

Written parental consent should be obtained for trips involving any overnight stay or any foreign travel. A sample form for obtaining parental consent is at Appendix C1.

3 TRANSPORT

In some cases, young people will travel to and from events with their parents or with friends, in which case the parents will make their own arrangements. But on other occasions the EBU itself or a club, teacher or other volunteer will need to arrange transport on behalf of the bridge organisation that they represent. If this involves use of a coach or minibus, the following points should be considered:

- passenger safety
- the competence, qualifications and training of the driver of the proposed vehicle
- the number of driving hours for the journey and the length of the driver's day
- journey time, distance and stopping points
- the need for driver breaks or whether more than one driver is needed
- supervision requirements
- appropriate insurance cover
- type of journey, traffic and weather conditions
- suitability of transport if any players have a disability
- awareness of emergency procedures.

Vehicles must be appropriate and roadworthy. All vehicles which carry groups of three or more children under 15 must be fitted with a seat belt for each child. Seats must face forward and the restraints must comply with legal regulations. Where provided, seat belts must be worn. More information about the legal requirements may be obtained from the Department for Transport website – Advice to Users and Operators of Minibuses and Coaches carrying children. This is reached by accessing the DFT home page at www.dft.gov.uk and following the links to roads and vehicles/ vehicles/vehicle standards: safety or by going direct to: www.dft.gov.uk/stellent/groups/dft_roads/documents/page/dft_roads_506857.hcsp. It is also advisable for those who may drive a group in a minibus to have training in minibus driving and the management of passengers.

If travelling abroad, there may be different legislation and regulations to be complied with regarding travel and transport, including special documentation requirements for minibuses. All group members should be made aware of unfamiliar right-hand drive traffic and the need to take care when doors do not open on the kerb-side of the road.

In principle, the use of private cars to transport children should be avoided. If this is the only feasible method of transporting players, however, staff must ensure:

- that their vehicle is roadworthy
- that they have the appropriate licence and insurance cover
- that their vehicle has seat belts
- that the seat belts are used
- that they obtain written parental consent
- that information regarding expected departure and arrival times is made available to the relevant people.

If at all possible, adults should not be put in a position where they are alone in a vehicle with a player, though if this does occur the young person should travel in the back of the car. To avoid this, when transporting groups, central collection and dropping-off points should be arranged rather than individual home drops.

If travelling with a group by public transport, where possible this should be booked well in advance and seats should be reserved to ensure the party can travel together

4 SUPERVISION

All those acting in a supervisory capacity on trips should have complied with the checking procedures outlined elsewhere in these Procedures. Where a group is of mixed sex, there should be at least one male and one female member of staff. There should be a designated group leader and all staff should be provided with a full itinerary, including contact information and transport arrangements. There should always be a list of group members so that a simple head count or register can easily be taken.

The number of staff required for any trip will vary according to a number of factors. The following should be taken into account when deciding on how many are needed:

- the nature of the activities
- the gender, age and ability of the group
- the duration and nature of the journey
- the competence and likely behaviour of the young people
- the number of additional adults present
- the experience of the staff in supervising the type of programme.

Consideration should also be given to ensuring that there are enough people to deal with an emergency. As a guide, a ratio of 1:10 should be considered as a minimum requirement where the players are aged 11 or over. For younger children or those with disabilities the ratio may be increased.

Appendix B – Guidelines for bridge trips

While travelling, the group leader should be responsible for discipline. The driver of a vehicle should not normally be responsible for supervision, although this is acceptable for smaller groups of older children. Other factors which may need to be considered include these:

- on a double decker bus, at least one supervisor for each deck is needed;
- the safety of a group when crossing roads, especially when abroad in unfamiliar right-hand drive traffic
- discipline is maintained and it is made clear to the group how far they can roam on trains or ferries, etc. Ferries may require young people to be supervised if they go on deck.
- sufficient stops are available at suitable places to ensure safety and comfort of all group members, including the driver.

During longer trips involving larger groups and overnight stays, each child should be allocated and made aware of the identity of a specified member of staff to whom they can turn with any questions or when they need to talk to someone about anything. Be aware that young people may be homesick, especially if this is a first trip away.

5 ACCOMMODATION

The accommodation for an overnight stay may vary widely and different factors need to be considered for different types. The following are some basic guidelines however:

All accommodation should be clean with access to sufficient toilet and bathing facilities. Separate facilities should be available for males and females.

It is not acceptable for young people to share a bed, or for male and female players to share a room (unless they are brother and sister and parental agreement is obtained).

It is not acceptable for members of staff to share a room with a child (unless parents and children).

All accommodation must be safe. In hotels, rooms should be lockable. Check that the emergency/fire alarm procedures are clear and are communicated to all.

If staying in a residential centre or similar, sleeping arrangements may be in dormitories, so check you are not sharing with other unknown groups. In hotels, try to avoid members of the group being spread throughout the hotel. Where children are on different floors in guest houses, hotels or halls of residence, adult staff should be available on each floor. If possible staff accommodation should be close to that of the young people.

Check out any ground rules of the establishment. These may be in respect of safety, smoking, alcohol, consumption of food obtained off the premises, etc, or apply to responsibilities for setting tables, clearing dishes etc in residential centres and the like.

Check the accommodation policy for extras on bills, breakages, lost keys etc.

Check what linen, toiletries, refreshment facilities etc are provided and what needs to be brought

In hotels, if rooms are equipped with satellite television, check whether inappropriate programmes may be accessible – it may be possible to arrange for these to be disconnected. Also check the availability of mini-bars, hotel telephones and give guidance on their use as necessary.

Ensure all catering requirements are communicated to the establishment and can be met. Make sure that mealtimes are appropriate for the programme. If self-catering, check the availability of the kitchen equipment

Appendix B – Guidelines for bridge trips

Check that the accommodation is suitable for any players with disabilities. If there are problems these may be overcome by providing a carer, but this should be discussed with young people and their parents in advance.

Staff should ensure that young people know which rooms they occupy and how to contact them if necessary at night.

In addition, supervisory staff should make sure that all young people are aware of the needs of other users of the accommodation. Consideration should always be given to the needs of other guests in hotels, and especially to hosts if staying with host families or similar.

In the case of young people being hosted, the following additional guidelines apply:

Players should be placed with families where there is a player of a similar age and where possible the same sex. If the players are of a different sex, there must be both sexes in the household

It is preferable for visiting players to have their own bedroom, but it is acceptable for them to share a room with another person of similar age and of the same sex

Host families should be informed of any special medical, dietary or cultural needs of their guests

Hosts must be aware of the arrangements for collecting and transporting guest players throughout the trip

A list of all the visiting group, indicating the name, address and telephone number of the families they are staying with should be provided to staff members.

Adult members of a host family should, if possible, comply with the checking procedures outlined in this document (or those of the host country if appropriate). It is appreciated that this may not always prove practicable when finding hosts for visiting players, in which case potential hosts should be asked to sign a confidential Self Declaration Form. A sample form is at Appendix B2.

These guidelines apply whether sending players off to stay with hosts or providing hosting facilities to visiting players. If being a host, it is good practice for a small group of two or three people to visit host families at their homes to check that the situation is suitable.

6 EMERGENCY PROCEDURES

Throughout a trip away, the group leader should know how to contact the emergency services and have access to the minimum first-aid provision. The organiser should also be aware of any specific medical conditions including identification of any allergies. Staff should in general act as any reasonably prudent parent would and should not hesitate to act in an emergency and to take life-saving action in an extreme situation.

If an emergency occurs, the factors to consider are to:

Establish the nature of the emergency as quickly as possible

Ensure the group as a whole is safe and well cared for and that they are following the emergency procedures

Ensure that all group members who need to know are aware of the incident

Establish the names of any casualties and obtain immediate medical attention for them, if necessary ensuring that a member of staff accompanies any casualties to hospital

Notify the police if necessary

Write down as soon and as accurately as possible all relevant facts and witness details, and preserve any vital evidence

Keep a written account of all events, times and contacts after the incident

Appendix B – Guidelines for bridge trips

Complete an accident/incident report form as soon as possible. A sample form for this purpose is at Appendix B3.

Ensure that no-one in the group speaks to the media. Names of those involved should not be given to the media as this can cause distress to the families involved.

Ensure that no-one in the group discusses legal liability with other parties.

7 INSURANCE

Any bridge activity at a school, bridge club or any commercial location such as a hotel will normally be covered by the insurance of the establishment where the activity is taking place. You should, however, always check that the venue has its own insurance cover.

Bridge is not in general a hazardous activity, so other insurance is not mandatory, but the following should be considered:

While travelling in motor vehicles, passengers are covered by law under the Road Traffic Act (1988). For self-drive vehicles, consideration should be given to accident, breakdown and recovery cover through a reputable motoring service.

For travel within the UK, Personal Accident insurance should be considered, which would give a no-fault pay-out in the event of serious injury or death

Public Liability cover is recommended for anyone taking a group away on any trip. If the trip is organised by a club or school or similar body, the sponsoring organisation may have appropriate cover. If not, volunteers, teachers and coaches etc may obtain cover through the scheme operated by the EBU Teachers Association (EBTA, formerly the English Bridge Union Teachers Association) through Bluefin Insurance Services Limited. This option will almost always be considerably cheaper than obtaining a personal policy. Further details of this scheme are obtainable from the EBU (01296 317200 or postmaster@ebu.co.uk).

8 TRAVEL ABROAD

A group travelling abroad should be well-prepared. Factors to be considered in any briefing include:

the need for passports and, where relevant, visas or vaccinations. Check the requirements in particular for any non-EU nationals information on the language, particularly common phrases

information on the currency and the availability of cash machines

a simple map of the area, with key locations

information about food and drink, including drinking water telephones abroad, the code for phoning home, advice on using mobile phones

the culture of the country – rules and regulations, body language, dress codes, local customs, attitudes to gender, etc exposure to drugs and alcohol, and any consequences of their use. Note that whilst the laws of other countries may be different, it should generally be assumed that parents would expect the regulations in UK Law to apply as a minimum.

Additional insurance is likely to be required for overseas trips. It is advised that the following cover should be in place:

Medical cover, including repatriation expenses
Compensation for loss of baggage, passports or money
Emergency expenses to cover accommodation and transport
Legal assistance in recovery of claims

Appendix B – Guidelines for bridge trips

The EBU has travel insurance that covers all players travelling abroad in representative teams. Any cases of doubt as to whether individuals are covered by this should be referred to the EBU DSO or Office Manager. This is necessary in any case for all young people, as the insurance company requires notification of all under-18 year-olds that are travelling, prior to departure.

You should consider obtaining a European Health Insurance Card (EHIC), if you are entitled to it, to receive necessary healthcare during a visit to a European Economic Area (EEA) country or Switzerland. For further details visit the EHIC website:

<http://www.nhs.uk/NHSEngland/Healthcareabroad/EHIC/Pages/about-the-ehic.aspx>

If an emergency occurs on a trip abroad, in addition to the emergency procedures described above, there are additional issues to consider:

- The relevant home contact should be informed. For a club trip, the club home telephone number should be accessible at all times. Full details of the incident should be passed on for informing and reassuring parents, together with information about the action taken so far and the planned future action. Make sure that you know phone numbers for future calls, preferably not relying on mobile phones.

- Insurers must be notified, especially if medical assistance is required

- The host, tour operator or other relevant trip organiser should be informed

- In the event of a serious emergency, the British Embassy/consulate should be informed

The person acting as the home contact should

- Establish that the group leader is in control of the situation and determine if any assistance is needed from home

- Contact parents and keep them as well informed as possible at all stages

- Liaise with other home club or other officials including, if necessary, the English Bridge Union

- Liaise with a designated media contact if appropriate

- Report the incident to the insurers as appropriate

Code of Conduct for players on bridge trips

Behaviour and personal conduct must at all times be of a high standard and reflect favourably on bridge and bridge players. Language in public or relevant group situations must always be appropriate and socially acceptable

Selling alcohol to minors and purchase of alcohol by minors is totally forbidden for players under-age as defined by UK Law. Consumption of alcohol by minors, while not illegal in UK law, should be discouraged. During competition it is strictly forbidden to all team/squad members and staff. In other situations, alcohol may not be consumed without the specific consent of the group leader

Smoking is prohibited during play and during group meetings and other designated sessions.

Personal appearance shall be appropriate to the circumstances and as indicated by the group leader. Designated dress codes must be followed when specified.

Attendance at all activities is expected unless agreed by the group leader. Throughout the duration of the trip, players should inform staff of their whereabouts. Punctuality on all occasions is essential and any curfew must be observed.

Illegal drugs and “legal highs”, as well as performance-enhancing drugs and substances are strictly forbidden. Players in international representative teams will be made aware of the current list of banned substances and particular care must be exercised if anyone is on medication prior to or during such an event.

In a representative event, players needing to take prescription medication should take advice from the NPC regarding their use during the event.

Accommodation at hotels or equivalent must be as directed and at no times may anyone extra be accommodated in players’ rooms.

Breaches of the Code of Conduct will be dealt with in the first instance by the group leader. He/she will report any incidents to the club, school or EBU, as appropriate, who will take such further action as is deemed necessary.

Appendix D – Course Information

Sports coach UK – Safeguarding & Protecting Children Course

Protect yourself, the young people you are coaching and your employer by understanding and following good coaching practice. Learn about child abuse and how to handle situations if you have concerns.

This workshop will help you, the coach to:

- identify good coaching practice to promote a positive relationship with children

- identify sport situations and coaching practice that might constitute either poor practice or possible abuse

- identify ways of dealing with your own feelings about child abuse and state what constitutes neglect, physical, sexual and emotional abuse

- recognise the signs and symptoms of abuse and appreciate why reporting it is often so difficult

- identify appropriate action if a child discloses he/she has been abused

- identify appropriate action if abuse is suspected and explain the role and responsibilities of other experts (e.g. police, Local Authority Designated Officer (LADO))

- describe appropriate practice that reduces the likelihood of abuse occurring.

Further details available at <http://www.ukcoaching.org/>

Bullying

The EBU has a rigorously enforced anti-bullying strategy and will instigate the same reporting procedures for bullying as it does for allegations of poor practice and abuse.

Action to help the victim and prevent bullying in sport:

Take all signs of bullying very seriously.

Encourage all children to speak and share their concerns (It is believed that up to 12 children per year commit suicide as a result of bullying, so if anyone talks about or threatens suicide, seek professional help immediately). Help the victim to speak out and tell the person in charge or someone in authority. Create an open environment.

Investigate all allegations and take action to ensure the victim is safe. Speak with the victim and the bully(ies) separately.

Reassure the victim that you can be trusted and will help them, although you cannot promise to tell no one else.

Keep records of what is said (what happened, by whom, when).

Report any concerns to the person in charge at the club or school (wherever the bullying is occurring).

Action towards the bully(ies):

Talk with the bully(ies), explain the situation, and try to get the bully(ies) to understand the consequences of their behaviour. Seek an apology to the victim(s).

Inform the bully's parents.

Insist on the return of borrowed items and that the bully(ies) compensate the victim.

Provide support for the teacher/coach of the victim.

Impose sanctions as necessary.

Encourage and support the bully(ies) to change behaviour.

Hold meetings with the families to report on progress.

Inform everyone of action taken.

Keep a written record of action taken.

Appendix G – Acceptable Use Statement

The English Bridge Union (EBU) understands the importance of new technology for children and young people’s development. However, we recognise that relevant safeguards need to be put in place to ensure children and young people remain safe whilst online or using social media.

We ask that all parents / carers spend a few minutes to read through and discuss this statement with their child/children and then sign and return this form to the EBU designated Safeguarding Officer

- I will be responsible for my behaviour when using the internet and social media at an EBU event, including the content I access and how I conduct myself
- I will not deliberately create, browse or access material that could be considered offensive or illegal. If I accidentally come across any such material, I will report this to a member of staff.
- I will not use social media or the internet to send anyone material that could be considered threatening, offensive, upsetting, bullying or illegal.
- I understand that all my use of internet and social media is potentially visible to everyone in the online world and that any issues involving my behaviour may be addressed by my coach/teacher or other staff members of the EBU.
- I will not give out any of my personal information such as name, age, address or telephone number online.
- I will not share my passwords with anyone else.
- I will not arrange to meet someone that I have met online unless accompanied by a member of EBU staff or parent/carer.
- I understand that these rules are designed to keep me safe and if they are not followed my parents/carers may be contacted.

We have discussed this statement and(Insert child’s name) agrees to support the safe use of the internet and social media at all EBU events.

des guidance on the procedures that will support and underpin the use of social media and other online services within the English Bridge Union (EBU). It is important that all staff, volunteers, coaches, officials/TD, board/trustee members, or anyone working on behalf of the organisation are aware of this policy and agree to the following terms.

Aims:

- To protect all children and young people attending the sports club/organisation and who make use of technology (such as mobiles phones, games consoles/hand-held devices and the internet) whilst they're within the care of the club/organisation
- To provide staff and volunteers with policy and procedure information regarding online safety
- To ensure the EBU is operating in line with their values and within the law regarding how the organisation uses information technology

Online safety checklist:

1. Understand the safety aspects including what is acceptable and unacceptable behaviour when using digital technology such as social media sites (e.g. Twitter and Facebook), apps, mobile phones, game consoles and the internet.
2. When engaging with digital technology/social media companies (e.g. Facebook, Twitter or Instagram) it is important to ensure that they adhere to relevant legislation and good practice guidelines.
3. Regularly review existing safeguarding policies and procedures to ensure that online safeguarding issues are fully integrated including:
 - reporting online concerns about possible abuse
 - reporting other breaches of procedures and codes of conduct
4. Decide how the webpage/profile will be managed within the EBU.
 - vetting and managing the webpage/profile
 - training for the person/s managing the organisation's online profile
 - involvement from the EBU's designated safeguarding lead person
 - ensure any interactive content is moderated by someone trained to be aware of safeguarding issues, e.g. EBU social media page/discussion forums
5. Registration or 'signing up' to the EBU:
 - choose an appropriate email address to register/set up a profile/account
 - ensure appropriate security settings are set up to store personal information
6. Ensure that adequate privacy settings are in place either restricting or allowing access to photos, personal information, comments about others, friends and followers.
7. Ensure that staff and volunteers, including coaches/teachers and players, are aware of the need to protect their privacy online. Staff and volunteers should be encouraged by the EBU to carefully consider who they give access to their personal information online. All staff and volunteers should ensure that a clear differentiation between their personal and professional profiles.
8. Address safety when adding content to your webpage/profile:
 - sports contact details
 - promote your sports webpage/profile
 - promote safe and responsible use
 - avoid taking personal details of children and young people

- when uploading content – ‘think before you post’
- report fake or impostor webpage/profiles

9. Address safeguarding when promoting bridge, organisation, events and competitions.

Change Record

Date of Change/Review	Changed by:	Comments
July 2023

Policy approved: Date.....

The English Bridge Union (EBU) is committed to a policy of protecting the rights and privacy of individuals, voluntary and community group members, volunteers staff and others in accordance with The Data Protection Act 2018. The policy applies to all voluntary and community group members and staff at the EBU. Any breach of the Data Protection Act 2018, any subsequent data protection legislation, or the EBU Data Protection Policy is considered to be an offence and, in that event, disciplinary procedures apply.

As a matter of good practice, other organisations and individuals working with the EBU, and who have access to personal information, will be expected to have read and comply with this policy. It is expected that any staff who deal with external organisations will take responsibility for ensuring that such organisations sign a contract agreeing to abide by this policy.

Legal Requirements

Data are protected by the Data Protection Act 2018. Its purpose is to protect the rights and privacy of individuals and to ensure that personal data are not processed without their knowledge, and, wherever possible, is processed without their consent.

The Act requires us to register the fact that we hold personal data and to acknowledge the right of 'subject access' – voluntary and community group members and staff must have the right to copies of their own data.

Managing Data Protection

We will ensure that our details are registered with the Information Commissioner.

Purpose of data held by the EBU

Data may be held by us for the following purposes:

1. Staff Administration
2. Fundraising
3. Realising the Objectives of a Charitable Organisation or Voluntary Body
4. Accounts & Records
5. Advertising, Marketing & Public Relations
6. Information and Databank Administration
7. Journalism and Media
8. Processing For Not For Profit Organisations
9. Research
10. Volunteers

Data Protection Principles

In terms of the Data Protection Act 2018, we are the 'data controller', and as such determine the purpose for which, and the manner in which, any personal data are, or are to be, processed. We must ensure that we have:

1. Fairly and lawfully processed personal data the EBU will always put our logo on all paperwork, stating our intentions on processing the data and state if, and to whom, we intend to give the personal data. We will also provide an indication of the duration the data will be kept.

2. Processed for limited purpose

We will not use data for a purpose other than those agreed by data subjects. If the data held by us are requested by external organisations for any reason, this will only be passed if data subjects agree. Also external organisations must state the purpose of processing, agree not to copy the data for further use and sign a contract agreeing to abide by The Data Protection Act 2018 and the EBU Data Protection Policy.

3. Adequate, relevant and not excessive the EBU will monitor the data held for our purposes, ensuring we hold neither too much nor too little data in respect of the individuals about whom the data are held. If data given or obtained are excessive for such purpose, they will be immediately deleted or destroyed.

4. Accurate and up-to-date

We will provide our members with a copy of their data if requested to do so for information and updating where relevant. All amendments will be made immediately, and data no longer required will be deleted or destroyed. It is the responsibility of individuals and organisations to ensure the data held by us are accurate and up to date. Completion of an appropriate form (provided by the EBU) will be taken as an indication that the data contained are accurate. Individuals should notify us of any changes, to enable personnel records to be updated accordingly. It is the responsibility of the EBU to act upon notification of changes to data, amending them where relevant.

5. Not kept longer than necessary

We discourage the retention of data for longer than it is required. All personal data will be deleted or destroyed by us after one year of non-membership has elapsed.

6. Processed in accordance with the individual's rights

All individuals that the EBU hold data on have the right to:

- Be informed upon the request of all the information held about them within 40 days.
- Prevent the processing of their data for the purpose of direct marketing.
- Compensation if they can show that they have been caused damage by any contravention of the Act.
- The removal and correction of any inaccurate data about them.

7. Secure

Appropriate technical and organisational measures shall be taken against unauthorised or unlawful processing of personal data and against accidental loss or destruction of data.

All the EBU computers have a log in system and our Contact Database is password protected, which allow only authorised staff to access personal data. Passwords on all computers are changed frequently. All personal and financial data is kept in a locked filing cabinet and can only be accessed by the Executive officers. When staff members are using the laptop computers out of the office care should always be taken to ensure that personal data on screen is not visible to strangers.

8. Not transferred to countries outside the European Economic Area, unless the country has adequate protection for the individual.

Data must not be transferred to countries outside the European Economic Area without the explicit consent of the individual. the EBU takes particular care to be aware of this when publishing information on the Internet, which can be accessed from anywhere in the globe. This is because transfer includes placing data on a web site that can be accessed from outside the European Economic Area.

Appendix J – "WHISTLEBLOWING" Policy (Making a Disclosure in the Public Interest) and procedures: Whistleblowing procedure, Code of Conducts, Procedures for dealing with allegation of abuse against staff, forms for reporting concerns about a child, Data Protection Policy, Safeguarding Policy

Introduction

The English Bridge Union (EBU) are committed to the highest standards of openness, probity and accountability.

An important aspect of accountability and transparency is a mechanism to enable staff and other members of the EBU to voice concerns in a responsible and effective manner. It is a fundamental term of every contract of employment that an employee will faithfully serve his or her employer and not disclose confidential information about the employer's affairs. Nevertheless, where an individual discovers information which they believe shows serious malpractice or wrongdoing within the organisation then this information should be disclosed internally without fear of reprisal, and there should be arrangements to enable this to be done independently of line management (although in relatively minor instances the line manager would be the appropriate person to be told).

The Public Interest Disclosure Act, which came into effect in 1999, gives legal protection to employees against being dismissed or penalised by their employers as a result of publicly disclosing certain serious concerns. The EBU has endorsed the provisions set out below so as to ensure that no members of staff should feel at a disadvantage in raising legitimate concerns. It should be emphasised that this policy is intended to assist individuals who believe they have discovered malpractice or impropriety. It is not designed to question financial or business decisions taken by the EBU nor should it be used to reconsider any matters which have already been addressed under harassment, complaint, disciplinary or other procedures. Once the "whistleblowing" procedures are in place, it is reasonable to expect staff to use them rather than air their complaints outside the EBU.

Scope of Policy

This policy is designed to enable employees of the EBU to raise concerns internally and at a high level and to disclose information which the individual believes shows malpractice or impropriety. This policy is intended to cover concerns which are in the public interest and may at least initially be investigated separately but might then lead to the invocation of other procedures e.g. disciplinary. These concerns could include:

- Financial malpractice or impropriety or fraud
- Failure to comply with a legal obligation or Statutes
- Dangers to Health & Safety or the environment
- Criminal activity
- Improper conduct or unethical behaviour
- Attempts to conceal any of these

Safeguards

i. Protection

This policy is designed to offer protection to those employees of the EBU who disclose such concerns provided the disclosure is made:

- in good faith
- In the reasonable belief of the individual making the disclosure that it tends to show malpractice or impropriety and if they make the disclosure to an appropriate person (see below). It is important to note that no protection from internal disciplinary procedures is offered to those who choose not to use the procedure. In an extreme case malicious or wild allegations could give rise to legal action on the part of the persons complained about.

ii. Confidentiality

the EBU will treat all such disclosures in a confidential and sensitive manner. The identity of the individual making the allegation may be kept confidential so long as it does not hinder or frustrate any investigation. However, the investigation process may reveal the source of the information and the individual making the disclosure may need to provide a statement as part of the evidence required.

iii. Anonymous Allegations

this policy encourages individuals to put their name to any disclosures they make. Concerns expressed anonymously are much less credible, but they may be considered at the discretion of the EBU.

In exercising this discretion, the factors to be taken into account will include:

- The seriousness of the issues raised
- The credibility of the concern
- The likelihood of confirming the allegation from attributable sources

iv. Untrue Allegations

if an individual makes an allegation in good faith, which is not confirmed by subsequent investigation, no action will be taken against that individual. In making a disclosure the individual should exercise due care to ensure the accuracy of the information. If, however, an individual makes malicious or vexatious allegations, and particularly if he or she persists with making them, disciplinary action may be taken against that individual.
